Little Hope Of Locating Blast Cause

List Three Deaths, Ten-Hour Ordeal For Boy Scouts

TRENTON, Ga. (AP) — Rescue squad officials see little hope of determining what kind of gas set off a cave explosion which resulted in three deaths and a 10-hour ordeal for three young Boy Scouts.

"Something happened, this we know," said Gene Glaze of Chattanooga, a leader in the rescue effort. "There was an explosion, but I'm at a loss to say what caused it because the only test equipment we had was for carbon monoxide."

Those tests showed a concentration of "pure carbon monoxide" in a 40-foot-deep pit of Howards Cave, where two rescuers died. The third victim, a guide for Explorers Post 79 of Atlanta, was trapped with the three Scouts on a ledge above and behind the fumes.

There was some speculation that the explosion may have been caused by gasoline fumes which had seeped into the cave. Glaze said he understood the cave had been posted several years ago because of "poisonous gas" within.

Rusty Mills, about 18, of Morrow, Ga., and Gernie Gilley, 19, of Trenton, died after rushing into the blanket of noxious gas in a rescue attempt shortly after the explosion about 12:30 p.m. Saturday. Phil Howell, 27, of Atlanta, the guide, apparently was also killed by the fumes.

The trapped Scouts, led to safety about midnight after the cool night air dispelled most of the carbon monoxide, were sent home after an overnight hospital stay. They are Chris Shannon, 14; Mike Strickland, 15; and Doug Flemming, 17, all of Atlanta.

UFO Chase Lasts For 86 Miles

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—"We were close, closer than I ever want to be again," said a deputy sheriff who chased an unidentified flying object from Ohio into Pennsylvania.

Hundreds of persons in both states reported seeing the "brilliant and shiny" object early Sunday morning.

Police Chief Gerald Buchert of Mantua, about eight miles north of Ravenna, said he took a picture of the object from his front yard but the Air Force told him not to release it.

Buchert said it looked like "two table saucers put together."

Portage County Deputy Sheriff Dale Spaur said he and his partner, W.L. Neff, "were close" to the object in separate cars and chased it 86 miles for an hour and a half, from near Ravenna to Conway, Pa., near Pittsburgh.

Spaur said he clocked it at speeds up to 103 miles per hour. From the ground Spaur said it looked like the head of a flashlight, about 40 feet wide and 18 feet high.

20,000 Miners Return To Their Posts Today

PITTSBURGH (AP) — About 20,000 soft coal miners went back to work today after a weeklong strike. But some 35,000 others remained out in their fight for a new contract. Meanwhile, the Bituminous Coal Operators Association renewed its charge that the strike is illegal.

The association sent a telegram to W. A. (Tony) Boyle, United Mine Workers Union president, stating the strike violated laws and a valid labor agreement.

About 25,000 miners were out in Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, the chief areas of resistance to a union back-to-work order.

Most of the miners who returned were in Kentucky, Illinois and Virginia.

More Oil Pours Into Rhodesia

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The British campaign to keep the tankers Manuela and Ioanna V from delivering oil to Rhodesia made big headlines, but the rebellious African colony is still getting more oil each month overland than either ship carried, a South African newspaper reported today.

Johannesburg's Rand Daily Mail said the flow of oil from South Africa to Rhodesia averages between 140,000 and 160,000 gallons daily — double the amount required under current rationing quotas.

The newspaper gave this report: A survey last week showed that each day at least 45,000 gallons were shipped by trucks and 100,000 gallons by rail. An unidentified oil company official said oil firms favored the cheaper rail routes from Lourenco Marques, in Portuguese Mozambique.

Most of the truck hauling is now done by an unnamed American oil company and South African agents. The Portuguese are supplying about 10 per cent of the fuel shipped by rail.

The Greek tanker Manuela, carrying 15,000 tons of crude oil originally destined for Rhodesia, was reported Sunday heading for Rotterdam after five days in Durban, South Africa.

The Manuela was turned away from the Mozambique port of Beira by a British naval boarding party April 10 under a U.N. Security Council resolution authorizing Britain to use force against tankers trying to put oil into Mozambique to evade the British oil embargo against Rhodesia.

A pipe line runs from Beira to the colony whose white minority rulers defied Britain and seized independence last November to preserve white rule.

Reports from Beira said the Manuela's sister ship the Ioanna V was expected to sail from Beira May 6 without unloading its 18,000 tons of oil.

Arizona Law Out

Loyalty Oath Law Struck Down By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court struck down today an Arizona law requiring a loyalty oath of all state employees.

Justice William O. Douglas delivered the 5-4 decision. Justice Byron R. White wrote a dissenting opinion. Justices Tom C. Clark, John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart joined in White's opinion.

The court ruled on an appeal by Mrs. Barbara Elfrandt, a public school teacher of Tucson who refused to sign the oath. The law says public employees who refuse to sign must be taken off the payroll, although not discharged. Mrs. Elfrandt has taught for eight years without pay.

She contended the requirement denied her right of free association and free speech. She is a member of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers), but her attorney emphasized before the Supreme Court that the fact was not being argued in the case.

Vernon Elfrandt, husband of Mrs. Elfrandt, likewise refused to sign and has taught for eight years without pay. The attack on the state law was brought in her name only.

Estimates were made that if she won the case, the Elfrandts would likely collect back pay of about $50,000. The former Spokane, Wash., couple have received financial aid from friends and supporters of their beliefs.

Douglas said in his majority opinion the Arizona act "threatens the cherished freedom of association protected by the First Amendment."

Douglas, in his majority opinion, described Mrs. Elfrandt as a teacher and a Quaker who "decided she could not in good conscience take the oath, not knowing what it meant and not having any chance to get a hearing at which its precise scope and meaning could be determined."

Douglas described the oath requirement in this manner: "The oath reads in conventional fashion as follows: 'I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution and laws of the State of Arizona; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same, and defend them against all enemies, foreign and domestic, and that I will faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of the office of (name of office) according to the best of my ability, so help me God (or so I do affirm).'"

Name Aref New Iraq President

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Prospects for a power struggle in Iraq appeared to subside today after Maj. Gen. Abdel Rahman Aref, the army chief of staff, was named to succeed his dead brother as president.

Rahman Aref was chosen by the Cabinet and Defense Council at a midnight meeting Saturday eight hours after the state funeral for President Abdel Salam Aref, killed in a helicopter crash last Wednesday.

The vote for Rahman Aref was reported to have been unanimous which would contribute much toward stability of the new regime. The Defense Council includes Iraq's top military leaders.

Rahman Aref's selection was followed by an easing of the curfew imposed after his brother's death. Baghdad radio began reading telegrams of support from military posts throughout Iraq.

Aref's death had raised the prospect of bitter political fighting and perhaps worse over who would succeed him. Since he was named president by the military in 1963, Aref had maintained a precarious dominance over feuding political and religious factions.

The government of Premier Abdel Rehma Bazzaz offered to resign Sunday, but this is a routine formality. The Cabinet is expected to stay in office, but appointments must be made to replace two ministers killed with the president.

Rahman Aref was named by his brother to run the army in February 1963 after a revolution overthrew dictator Abdel Kerim Kassem. He confined himself to mostly military matters, exhibited no particular political leanings and was not considered a member of the inner circle of officers who under the leadership of Kassem and Salam Aref overthrew the pro-Western monarchy in 1958.

To Install Council, New Mayor

Sedalia mayor-elect Ralph H. Walker, owner of Walker Publishing Co., officially replaces L. L. Studer as mayor at the regular council meeting tonight. Two new councilmen and two who were re-elected will also be sworn in today.

Walker defeated James A. "Salty" Schumaker in the recent general election for the mayor's chair. Named to the council were George Dugan and Jerry "Bud" Jones, giving the Republicans two additional seats on the council.

Re-elected were James R. Askren and Walter Jessee, both Democrats.

Mayor Studer said Monday morning the council will handle routine business matters, including the written resignation of Walker as a member of the council.

Once the routine paper work is out of the way, Mayor Studer said he will issue a motion calling for the council to adjourn, sine die, prior to which he will read a prepared statement.

The new council will then be sworn in by Ralph Dedrick, city clerk. The council may then take up further business if it so desires, or adjourn, the mayor said.

No Problems For US Seen In Results Of Viet Election

Reds Not Interested In 'Non-Alignment'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk told senators today that if elections in South Viet Nam bring to power a nonaligned government "it would create no problems for us."

The problem, Rusk told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is that the Communist regime in Hanoi isn't interested in nonalignment but wants to take over South Viet Nam.

All Service, Goods Costs, Rise Sharply

Jump Is Larger Than Officials Had Anticipated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gross national product, the value of all goods and services produced in the economy, rose sharply during the first quarter of this year, to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $714 billion, the Commerce Department reported today.

The jump was much larger than administration officials anticipated in January and could add new fuel to the continuing debate over the need for a tax increase as a hedge against inflation.

The $17-billion rise represented a 2.5 per cent gain over the fourth quarter of 1965, but the Commerce Department's Office of Business Economics said the figures are preliminary and incomplete and subject to revision next month.

President Johnson, in his budget submitted to Congress in January, forecast a gross national product of between $717 billion and $727 billion during 1966 but more recently government officials have talked of a gross national product totaling $730 billion to $735 billion this year. The assumption is that the increases will be larger in the last three-quarters of the year.

Hopes Work Can Be Completed On Appropriations Bill

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The Senate Appropriations chairman held out the hope today work could be finished on the main bills of Missouri's billion dollar budget by Wednesday.

Sen. J. F. Patterson, D-Cathlamet, said he thought that goal could be achieved if the committee runs into no major snags.

The committee resumed work today on a day and night schedule to get the job done. The bills already have passed the House and the Senate committee has made some changes in them, but no big conflicts are foreseen.

Six Persons Killed

Seek Carload of Teeners In Connection With Crash

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP)—Police are looking for a third car and four unidentified teenagers in connection with a two-car crash that killed six persons and injured nine others Saturday night.

Witnesses said the teenagers were in a fast-moving sedan that pulled out of a service station onto U. S. 54 without stopping, forcing an eastbound Oklahoma car to swerve into the path of a westbound Kansas car.

The third car pulled off the road and stopped for a moment after the collision, then sped away, the witnesses said.

The witnesses were at the service station three miles west of Liberal on U. S. 54, near the Oklahoma border.

"We support the idea of elections in South Viet Nam," he said, but "the other side is not willing to depend on elections."

Rusk expressed confidence that if elections are held as planned this August, the people of South Viet Nam will not "be the first people to elect a Communist regime."

Rusk, the first Cabinet officer to be questioned in public by senators since the drive for elections broke out in Viet Nam during congress's Easter recess, said he understood the election of a constitution-making assembly will be held in August.

"It has been apparent throughout these recent discussions that there is general agreement among all of the participants that they reject the Viet Cong and the efforts of Hanoi to impose a political solution upon the South by force," said Rusk. He added:

"It is important of course that these political processes proceed on the basis of solidarity on the eventual aims with respect to South Viet Nam even though, as we ourselves learn, the construction of a basic constitutional arrangement is a complicated and difficult matter."

Rusk's testimony came after Barry Goldwater charged President Johnson is playing politics with the Vietnamese war by trying to keep it at "a low level" to save Democratic seats in next fall's congressional elections.

"We're not exerting our full air power against the enemy, and I don't think that is playing fair with the men who are being drafted and the men who are being sent over to Viet Nam," Johnson's 1964 GOP presidential opponent said in a copyright interview in U. S. News and World Report.

Goldwater's volley came as Congress returns full force to face the Vietnamese political storm that broke during the Easter recess and as Secretary of State Dean Rusk faces the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The big question: What now? In going before the Foreign Relations group, Rusk once again was facing the questions of a committee that has been a hotbed of congressional criticism of Johnson's Asian policies.

Jets Smash Sites Near Hanoi City

Closest Raid Yet To North Viet's Capital Recorded

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force jets smashed two Soviet-built missile sites on the outskirts of Hanoi in the closest raid yet to the North Vietnamese capital and left two key bridges in ruins, U.S. spokesmen reported today.

Another group of Navy fighter-bombers set off a huge explosion at a suspected missile site 27 miles south of the coastal city of Vinh, 160 miles south of Hanoi, silenced seven nearby anti-aircraft batteries and sank a junk.

Led by target-marking F100 Super Sabre jets in clear afternoon skies, a pack of Air Force supersonic F105 Thunderchiefs began the raid around Hanoi Sunday by hurling 750-pound bombs at a bridge 33 miles south of the capital on the road to the chief port of Haiphong.

The span was put out of commission, a spokesman said.

The jets then moved closer to the capital blasting a missile site 15 miles south of the city and another 17 miles southwest with rockets and 20mm cannon fire. A huge explosion rocked one of the missile complexes, a pilot reported. The airmen spotted rockets on the launching pads just before they roared in but only one missile was set up. It missed.

Three other flights of Thunderchiefs struck the main railroad bridge between Hanoi and Vinh with 750-pound bombs, leaving it completely "sagged, twisted and definitely unserviceable," a spokesman said. The bridge was hit last November but had been rebuilt, he said.

The loss of five more U.S. planes in the past three days raised the number brought down in the 15-month-old air war against North Viet Nam to 210. But only two fliers were reported lost over the weekend.

An A1H Navy Skyraider was lost to conventional ground fire this afternoon three miles south of Tiger Island and just north of the 17th Parallel frontier. The pilot was rescued by helicopter after ejecting.

Although no American planes were reported lost in the attacks around Hanoi, other heavy air strikes Sunday near Vinh and Dong Hoi cost three planes.

April 25 Printing Date Set

NEW YORK (AP) — Matt Meyer, president of the corporation formed by three merging New York City newspapers, says "we will either publish our two daily papers on April 25, or we will publish no papers at all."

The corporation, the World Journal Tribune Inc., is to publish a morning paper, an afternoon paper and a Sunday paper. Meyer had this statement Sunday for the 10 newspaper unions, none of which has reached an agreement with the new corporation.

"The April 25th date for starting our new newspapers is firm, and unless the unions recognize that this calls for some production work early this week, a situation tantamount to a strike is inevitable."

The Herald Tribune, a morning paper, is scheduled to be published next Monday, April 25, as the first edition of the new corporation.

The other two papers in the merger — the Journal-American and the World-Telegram & Sun — are scheduled to appear that afternoon combined as the World Journal. The Sunday editions of the Herald Tribune and the Journal-American are to be combined.

Following Meyer's statement, a spokesman for the new corporation explained that any delay in the start of the two papers would not delay the closing of the three newspapers now being published. "It means that the three separate corporations will be out of business on Sunday, the 24th," the spokesman said.

Ten Persons Die In Auto Accidents

Independence Woman On State Fatality List

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least ten persons were killed over the weekend in traffic accidents in Missouri.

The victims included Mrs. Bonnie Sue Bowers, 22, of Independence, Mo., who was injured fatally in a two-car collision in Pleasant Hill and Ervin Sinclair, 51, of Kansas City North, who died about five hours after he was injured in a collision not far from his home.

Sinclair's death was ruled by Police as the 26th traffic fatality of the year in Kansas City. Only 16 deaths had been recorded on the same date a year ago.

Edward Adolph Hemme, a Hannibal businessman, was killed Sunday—his 71st birthday—in a collision at Hannibal. Authorities said Hemme drove onto Highway 61 from the Palmyra road and met a car driven by 18-year-old Carl Arnold Jurgens Jr., of Hannibal. Hemme and his son have a paint and wall paper store.

Three persons were killed in a collision on U.S. 36 east of St. Joseph Saturday night. The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Mac G. Boyd of St. Joseph and 19-year-old Billy Darold Barham, who had just finished basic training at Fort Leonard Wood and was en route to St. Joseph.

The highway patrol said Barham apparently was trying to pass another car when he met the Boyd car head-on.

Linda Lee Houghton, 19, Carrollton, died Sunday of injuries received Saturday night on U. S. 24 about a mile east of Carrollton when the car went out of control on a curve and overturned.

Lester Eugene Dagley, 54, (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Killed in the Liberal car was Mrs. H. W. Goggans, 33. Her husband and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vestal were injured.

It took more than an hour to remove all of the dead and injured.

All four doors of the Goggans car were sealed shut by the impact. Mrs. Vestal, in the rear seat, watched officers rush back and forth to the other car.

"Please get the doors open so we can get out," she begged. "There are people more badly hurt in the other car," she was told.

"There's a woman badly hurt in this car, too," Mrs. Vestal said.

When the doors were pried open with crowbars, Mrs. Goggans was found dead in the front seat.

Six of Liberal's nine doctors were attending a dinner meeting of the Seward County Medical Society when the emergency arose. They hurried to the Southwest Medical Center where the victims were taken.

People In The News

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Film stars George Peppard and Elizabeth Ashley were married Sunday at the Bel-Air Hotel.

Peppard, 33, and Miss Ashley, 24, met during the filming of "The Carpetbaggers." Miss Ashley previously starred on Broadway in "Barefoot in the Park" and "Take Her, She's Mine."

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Robert Shaffer of the Church of the Divine Truth, Los Angeles.

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman, who will be 77 May 4, said Sunday he felt "a bit worn out" but promised to "keep going as long as I can."

The cardinal spoke to a communion breakfast launching the archdiocese's 47th annual Catholic charities drive, which seeks $3.7 million to aid needy people.

MOSCOW (AP) — Col. Rudolph Abel, Soviet spy exchanged for U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers in 1962, said on Moscow radio Sunday a good intelligence agent must have "clean hands, a cool head and a warm heart."

Abel, 63, claimed again that he had flushed a decoding device and a tape recording down a toilet and disposed of a piece of film — all under the noses of FBI agents. The FBI has denied it.

Abel served four years and eight months of a 30-year sentence before he was exchanged for Powers.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Anton Dos Santos, Spanish high wire performer, fell 30 feet at the Shrine Circus Saturday night.

About 11,000 persons screamed as Dos Santos hit the wire on his side during a somersault and fell to the concrete

Woman Found Dead Following Two Fires

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mrs. Wazel Justice, about 60, was found dead in her kitchen after two fires broke out in her home within a few hours early Sunday.

A roomer, Willard Deffenbaugh, 64, told firemen he was awoken by smoke about 2 a.m. and found Mrs. Justice trying to get out of a fire in her mattress—apparently caused by a cigarette. Deffenbaugh said he put out the fire with a pan of water, and went back to bed.

Shortly after 3 a.m. Deffenbaugh said, he was awakened by smoke again and this time was forced to climb out a second-floor window and climb down a tree.

Funeral services for Mrs. Justice will be held at the Windsor, with the Rev. David Hicks, officiating. Burial was in Laurel Oak Cemetery.

Accidents

No apparent injuries were received in a one-car accident on Pettis County Highway HH, one mile east of Beaman about 3:30 p.m. Sunday. Extensive damage resulted to the vehicle.

Involved was a 1964 Chevrolet convertible driven by Mary Lynne Lockett, 16, Sedalia.

According to a report of Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle, of the State Highway Patrol, who investigated the accident, Miss Lockett was driving east on Highway HH when she was crowded by another vehicle. She went off on the shoulder of the road into loose gravel and lost control of the automobile. The car swerved to the wrong side of the highway and left the roadway to overturn.

The car was towed to Sedalia by Bacon's wrecker.

A three-car collision occurred on U. S. Highway 65 about a mile and a half south of Sedalia about 5:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon and no injuries were reported.

All three automobiles were headed north on the highway. They were a 1963 Oldsmobile sedan driven by Mrs. Hurley Nadine Osborn, 51, Independence, followed by a 1965 Pontiac sedan driven by Frank Joseph Guilloux, 62, Lexington, and a 1964 Chevrolet sedan driven by George William Moore, 18, Laurie, Mo.

Trooper Robert Bruce of the Highway Patrol investigated the accident and reported the Oldsmobile and Pontiac had stopped for traffic and that Moore was unable to stop and avoid colliding with the Pontiac, which in turn collided with the Oldsmobile. Damage resulted to the rear of the Oldsmobile, to the front and rear of the Pontiac and front of the Chevrolet.

Moore was given a traffic ticket to appear before Magistrate Frank T. Armstrong.

"Big Red," a nine-year-old gelding quarter horse owned by John Zink, 1513 West 20th, received a cut on his left jaw and left fore-shoulder in a collision with a 1962 Chevrolet driven by Lester Leon Petree, 820 West Henry, at 3:24 p.m. Saturday.

"Big Red," technically, fell into the "pedestrian" class. The Chevrolet was headed south on Grand. Police reported "Big Red's" injuries were treated by R. A. Linsenbardt.

Harvey Clark, 217 West Cooper, disturbance of the peace, pleaded innocent and the case was nolle pros by city attorney.

Police Reports

Police received reports at 12:58 a.m. Sunday of children playing on the roof of the Home Lumber Co. building. They were instructed by officers to stay away from the site.

Area Fires

A barn on the Hansel Morris farm, Sedalia, Route 1, about 10 miles south and west of Sedalia, was destroyed by fire Saturday night. The loss was estimated by Pettis County Fire Chief Ralph Milburn at $2,000.

According to Chief Milburn, Morris had moved back to the farm and had been cleaning up around the property and had a grass fire going in the afternoon. It was believed the grass again caught fire and reached the galvanized metal barn.

Morris reported he was in the house when he heard something, looked out and saw a light, and before he could do anything the barn was a mass of flames. The fire shorted electric wiring causing all the electricity on the farm to be cut off.

Circuit Court

Wilma Lee Wasson was granted a divorce from Kenneth Joseph Wasson in Circuit Court Friday. Plaintiff's attorney was William F. Brown.

Another senior Democrat, Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama expressed belief the committee could discuss the situation with Rusk — and with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara Wednesday — "and not cause an explosion."

The committee's mood, said Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., may depend on Rusk — "to the extent he is frank with us. There is no use kidding ourselves, we are in trouble. We can't correct a problem by ignoring it."

The reason for Rusk's and McNamara's appearances before the committee is to support the administration's foreign aid requests. The hearings are to be televised nationally.

Goldwater expressed doubt the United States was doing all it could to "insure the stability in Saigon."

"The new civil disturbances over there — especially the demonstrations — I've looked upon as Communist inspired. If it keeps on as a continuing civil war, then I think we're in a very bad fix," Goldwater said.

The lack of a stable government in Saigon is one reason, Goldwater said, why the United States isn't making more progress in Vietnam.

A second reason, he said, is "because we're not making military judgments based upon military needs and military strategy. We're making judgments based upon domestic political needs."

Goldwater said "it's an open secret in Washington" that the Joint Chiefs of Staff want to bomb petroleum dumps around the port of Haiphong.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Whenever I read something in your column that burns me up I promise myself I'll sit down and write a letter to straighten you out, but I have never gotten mad enough. Until now. Yesterday you went too far.

You told a girl she was a fool because she had given away her precious gift—meaning her virginity. How naive can you be? The gift of the flesh can be the emptiest and most meaningless gift of all. A girl can give her body and make no real commitment.

Any female can give her virginity, but the girl who can give her MIND gives the most precious gift of all. I would like to hear your defense. If you can think of one—A BELIEVER IN STRATIFIED LOVE.

Dear Love: Your statement that any girl can give her virginity was a trifle incomplete. You should have added the word "once."

I hope YOU don't give too many fellows the gift of your mind, Lovey, because from the sound of your letter you don't have a great deal to spare.

Dear Ann Landers: I was stopped cold by your answer to the man who wanted to know why American males in public life always want to be photographed with mom. He asked if America is really a matriarchy and if it is true that in most American families, mom's voice is the one that is heard loudest and longest. You said, "Yes, it is true."

I am not challenging your answer, Ann, but in the interest of fairness you might have explained WHY it is true.

I am a wife who is head of the house and I'd give anything if I weren't. I have begged my husband to take an interest in the children but he refuses. He says that's MY job. He has never taken our sons fishing or to a baseball game or to a football game. He insists that he goes strictly for business reasons and he must invite clients. I don't want to imply that my husband is mean to the children. He simply ignores them.

To a less than astute observer I probably look like a domineering female who has shoved her husband out of the driver's seat. The truth is simply that my husband is too selfish and too immature to accept his role as a father, so I must do his job. So please, Ann, tell your readers not to leap to conclusions when they see an aggressive woman at the head of a family. It may well be that she has no choice. — PENNSYLVANIA MATRIARCH.

Dear Matriarch: Your letter was only one of the hundreds which expressed the same point of view. Thank you for showing the readers the OTHER side of the coin—and a very real side it is, too.

Mrs. Trampe Speaks

PTA Council Meeting Held With School of Instruction

Mrs. Waldo C. Trampe, president of the Missouri Congress of Parents and Teachers, St. Louis, was the speaker at the April meeting of the Sedalia Council of PTA, which was held at the First Baptist Church in conjunction with the annual PTA School of Instruction.

Mrs. Trampe, in her address told of the need to give material to all workers and help them learn how to use it. She referred to the PTA objective, pointing out that PTA is an educational organization and education is its number one business. It is a democratic organization, she said, operating through committees and boards where the minority has a right to be heard and the majority rules. It is non-commercial, non-sectarian, non-partisan. It should not direct or control policy of these local schools and should not interfere in any way. It should endeavor to establish good partnership with parents, teachers, school administrators and school board and may cooperate with other worthwhile organizations providing the representatives make no commitment to bind the organization.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Jake Summers, president and carried out the theme of "Christening of the Ship of Knowledge," using the names of naval officers for her officers and introducing Mrs. Trampe as the commander in chief. Mrs. Grant Cox, first vice-president, as first mate, called for reports from the presidents of the various school units: Mrs. Harley Sanford, Smith-Cotton; Mrs. Clayton Wright, Hubbard; Mrs. Edwin Worley, Whittier; Mrs. Guy Snyder, Horace Mann; Mrs. Deana Walker, Mark Twain; Mrs. Charles Bell, Washington; Mrs. John Horroff, Heber Hunt and Mrs. Miller, Jefferson.

Mark Twain PTA was hostess for the day and also had charge of the ice breaker which resulted in Mrs. Stanley Fisher winning the award by guessing closest the number of Easter eggs in the basket.

Mrs. Harley Sanford announced plans for the annual Council Spring Luncheon which will be held at 12:30 a.m. May 4, at Gold Cafeteria, distributed tickets to the unit president and asked that reservations be in by April 29. The new officers will be installed at this meeting.

Membership count and roll call was taken by Mrs. Frank Lamb, membership chairman. Smith-Cotton members received a duffel bag of candy kisses for the most members present.

The auditing committee was named. Mrs. Harley Sanford, chairman, Mrs. Clayton Wright and Mrs. Paul Dey.

Mrs. Summers introduced "Council's Playwright" Mrs. Oliver Thomas, who presented her seascap crew in a humorous manner showing the incorrect way to hold a meeting. Those participating were: Mrs. Charles Goosen, Mrs. Ray Simons, Mrs. James McCall, Mrs. Steve Wickham, Mrs. G. Landi, Mrs. Harley Sanford and Mrs. Fred C. Staley.

Group singing was led by Mrs. James McCall with Mrs. Stanley Fisher at the piano.

Conferences for new presidents were held by Mrs. Trampe. In charge of the program by Mrs. Leland Phillips; Parent and Family Life, Mrs. Stanley Fisher; membership, Mrs. Frank Lamb; budget and finance, Mrs. Guy M. Snyder; magazine, Mrs. Arthur McCune.

A contributive luncheon was served at noon with invocation by Mrs. Edwin Worley.

Mrs. Deane Walker, Mark Twain president, introduced Mrs. L. Corson, who gave the ### Students Draft a Code...

Every generation, it seems, has to re-examine and re-evaluate its moral inheritance.

Students at New Trier High School East in Winnetka, Ill., were given a chance to do that recently. For two months, reports the National Education Association, the school's 4,000 students took part in panel discussions, class talks, assemblies and club programs to hammer out a new code of ethics to replace a 1954 one. They studied the Ten Commandments and the ideas of the great thinkers of the past.

The object was to educate, not inculcate, about moral issues, explains Principal Ralph G. McGee.

The new code is similar to the previous one, he says, but the difference is great to the students' minds because they drafted it themselves rather than having it handed to them. Its preface reads:

"As an individual I am responsible for forming my own ethical standards. I will strive to reach a level of self-understanding which will enable me to evaluate the relative importance of values which conflict. Then I will determine my actions through honest consideration of their consequences to myself and others..."

Not a bad start—for a high school code of ethics and for a lifetime one as well.

Library Week

National Library Week is observed this week. It symbolizes a service and a need that are of the utmost importance in this complex modern world.

A library is many things. It is, first of all, a repository of the thoughts, the wisdoms, the failures and successes, and events great and small which marred or brightened the centuries which have passed. It holds, within its confines, the history of man and nature.

A library exists to provide knowledge and understanding. It has no limits — everything ever known under the sun is within its province. A library is timeless, in the sense that it embraces all of time.

A library offers the reader amusement, relaxation, the opportunity to quietly contemplate himself and the world around him. It provides, from its many voices, comfort or challenge, relief from care or stirrings of ambition — whatever may be one's needs or desires.

It is impossible to conceive of a world without libraries. Never in the endless reach of history has knowledge been so important. That is true of the knowledge that lies behind the miracles of science and invention which are transforming life more swiftly than we realize. And it is true, above all, of the knowledge that comes out of the past and that deals with the principles and attitudes and values that transcend the material and give true meaning to the existence and perpetuation of mankind.

is a must. If one lives in fear of snakes, obviously the safest place to live is the State of Maine, where there are no poisonous snakes. In other states it is a good idea to keep anti-venom serum in the first aid kit.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Latins Love LBJ But Not All Friends

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — President Johnson was well known in Mexico long before he became President, for standing up for the rights of Mexican-American citizens and for helping elect the first congressman of that race, Henry Gonzales of Texas. It was Johnson, who with Cantinflas, stood on the rear of a truck making speeches for Gonzales all over San Antonio.

Therefore, Lyndon Johnson, not only as President but as an individual, was most welcome in Mexico.

However, some of his policies and one of his top advisers have not been welcome, and it would require several goodwill trips to several different countries to undo their mistakes.

No. 1 mistake-maker is Tom Mann of Laredo, Tex., former Ambassador to Mexico, former Assistant Secretary for the American republics, and now an Under Secretary of State for economic affairs.

Tom is a charming "old-school" diplomat who was brought to Washington by the late Congressman Maury Maverick in the Roosevelt administration, and in some respects grew up in government with Lyndon Johnson. Lyndon is noted for loyalty to his friends. On one occasion he even brought a group of Latin-American ambassadors into the White House and tried to persuade them, with typical Johnsonian elquence, what a great diplomat Tom Mann was. The ambassadors went away unconvinced.

They gave Mann credit — or discredit — for the shoot-first-look-later decision to land U. S. troops in the Dominican Republic, a decision which aroused hostile, anti-American sentiment all over the hemisphere. At that time it looked as if U.S.-Latin American relations had hit an all-time low.

A Bust In Panama

The latest Pan American meeting, in Panama, probably has not sent them any lower; for they couldn't have gone much lower. But neither did it raise them. And this was one reason State Department officials were so delighted when President Johnson made his last-minute decision to go to Mexico.

What happened in Panama was that diplomats representing the organization of American states tried to accomplish two main objectives:

1. Establish a permanent peace-keeping force to prevent war in the Western hemisphere.

2. Organize moves to effect closer economic cooperation. Neither got very far.

The majority of Latin American diplomats gave a solid kick in the pants to Washington's pet scheme of an OAS peace-keeping force. The project was pigeonholed. The only major country backing us was the military government of Brazil.

But when it came to economic cooperation, the Latin American nations were genuinely enthusiastic. There has long been talk of a Pan American common market to take advantage of the lessons learned from the European common market and rival it. Already there are two modest attempts at common markets in the Western hemisphere, one by the five Central American nations, the other by the nine members of the Free Trade Association—Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay, Peru, Uruguay, Mexico, Colombia and Ecuador.

To further hemisphere economic cooperation, the Panama Conference came up with the following recommendations:

A. The gradual reduction of U. S. tariffs on the importation of basic Latin American commodities.

B. The elimination of bilateral most-favored nation agreements between the U.S. and Latin American countries in favor of regional agreements.

C. Stabilization of prices for the chief products of the hemisphere, coffee, cocoa, sugar, copper and tin.

Veto By Tom Mann

When these proposals went to Washington, however, they ran up against what is now called "Mann-erism."

Tom Mann's opposition was announced in Panama two days later. But instead of dressing up the veto with explanatory detail, there was only a drab, blunt negative. The response from Latin American diplomats was immediate.

Mexican Foreign Minister Antonio Carrillo Flores is an old friend of the United States. He was raised in Brooklyn, where his father was a hard-working, poverty-stricken musician; later spent four years in Washington as ambassador. He knows and likes the United States. But he described the veto as "seriously undermining the accomplishments of the Panama Conference."

Rafael de la Colina, Mexico's ambassador to the United Nations, was less diplomatic. He called the veto "inexcusably negative and stupid."

Even faithful supporters of the United States joined in the critical chorus. For a long time Paraguay and Nicaragua, the former under military dictatorship, have supported us on almost everything. But not on this.

Real fact is that Tom Mann, the President's friend, has misjudged the temper of Latin America. Its most influential leaders, Presidents Diaz Ordaz of Mexico, Raul Leoni of Venezuela, Eduardo Frei Montalva of Chile, and Belaunde Terry of Peru, are determined to push toward a Pan American common market whether the U. S. likes it or not.

All this is why Latin American diplomats hope President Johnson's sudden visit to Mexico City may start a new era of better Pan American understanding.

"Let's You an' Them Fight—
I'll Hold Your Coats!"

The World Today

Look For No Quick Change In China

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — For weeks and months the Johnson administration has listened to all kinds of opinions on how to handle Red China and now it has given its answer: the basic policy will remain tough and unchanged.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk took up a whole page of newspaper type to say that. This is the policy as he stated it: So long as China tries aggression, in Asia or elsewhere, the United States will try to stop it.

If Red China abandons the belief force is the best way to solve disputes, and gives up its violent strategy of world revolution, this country would welcome an era of good relations.

Rusk made it clear enough he sees no hope of change in the bellicose thinking of Red China so long as the present leaders are alive. Therefore, his hopes are on their successors, and not necessarily in their immediate successors.

He put it this way:

"I do not predict any quick changes in China. Nor are there simple solutions. Peking's present state of mind is a combination of aggressive arrogance and obsessions of its own making..."

"We have little hope of changing the outlook of these leaders. They are products of their entire lives. They seem to be immune to agreement or persuasion by anyone, including their own allies."

Then Rusk laid down a 10-point American policy for dealing with Red China.

All this was said and done in testimony a month ago before the Far East subcommittee of the House Foreign Affairs Committee in closed session. His testimony was made public over the weekend.

There was some reasonableness but no softness in the position Rusk took.

"If Peking reaps success from its current policies, not only its present leaders but those who follow will be emboldened to follow them. This is the path to increased tension, and even greater dangers to world peace in the years ahead," Rusk said.

This was an answer to anyone advocating a softer line toward Red China but it did not close the door on efforts to establish some kind of relationship which did not involve Red China's political or territorial ambitions.

For example, among his 10 policy points, Rusk suggested trying to enlarge unofficial contacts with Red China. He made this statement in March. And this month the American government invited Red China to send some of its scholars and scientists to universities in this country.

Over the weekend Red China called the offer a fraud.

Rusk suggested various ways in which the United States and Red China could have some contact, all of which is old hat to the Chinese who don't like the fit and wouldn't give a dime for it.

The nothing play is a play that can lose but can't possibly win. Most nothing plays result from a player not knowing that he is going slightly out of his way to risk the loss of a trick.

Sometimes these tricks are not too important except that every trick means something and the player who makes a habit of losing unimportant tricks will find himself losing important tricks also.

Six no-trump is the perfect contract for North and South. Between the combined hands they hold the ace and king of three suits and six or seven tricks in diamonds depending on whether South has to lose a trick to the missing king. The East and West cards aren't shown because they have no real importance here. The only thing we are interested in is to see if you readers know how to avoid the nothing play with this card combination.

We will start by telling you

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

Since the 73rd General Assembly authorized the Missouri Highway Patrol to increase its strength from 505 to 650, about 70 men have been added to the force, but Lt. Col. K. K. Johnson said last week there had not been as many applicants as they had hoped for.

Salary seems to be a major factor, but other circumstances already are shaping the futures of young men who would be desirable applicants, Johnson said.

The average age of Patrol applicants is about 25, he said, but young men in that age group are either staying in school, are married with dependents or are going into the service.

Patrol representatives recently completed a recruiting tour through several state colleges to promote the opportunities of police service, and Johnson hopes that the efforts of this tour will be reflected in the June applications, after graduation and during the summer recess.

"We're not getting as many college applicants as in the past," Johnson said. About 35 per cent of Patrol members have attended college, and many hold degrees, especially the top officers, he added.

The Patrol will graduate a new class with about 40 members in July, and another class is expected for October, Johnson said. Since the Legislature authorized the increase in manpower, two classes have been graduated, one last year and another in March of this year.

However, the Patrol loses about 12 to 18 men a year through retirement or resignation, Johnson said, which is about the national average for most police forces.

To attract the number and caliber of men desired for Patrol service is a difficult problem, Johnson pointed out. Patrolmen are paid $5,100 a year, and the last salary increase was voted by the 72nd General Assembly in 1965.

Certainly the rising cost of living has placed added demands on this salary level, Johnson said, and another increase is seriously being considered.

In addition, the Patrol demands a great deal in the quality of its men, who are subjected to highly competitive written, oral and physical exams before they are even considered for training, he said. It also places high demands on their families — and the attitude of a man's family always is considered before he is appointed.

232 Candidates

With only a few days left until the April 26 deadline, about 232 candidates had filed last week for election to the

that this situation calls for a finesse. If you bang your ace and try to drop a singleton king you are taking a very poor line of play. You gain a trick if East holds the singleton king. You lose a trick if West holds a singleton ten or deuce or is void.

Is that the nothing play? No, it isn't! South's correct play is to lead the queen from his hand. He plans to finesse if the queen is not covered. The nothing play is to lead low from his hand. The difference is that if West holds all three missing diamonds the queen play gives South all the tricks. The play of a low diamond holds him to his contract.

Actually the low play followed by a finesse is better than the try for a drop but it is still a nothing play. The drop play is just a bad one.

Missouri House of Representatives, according to Assistant Secretary of State Tilghman Cloud. Of these 168 Democrats and 64 Republicans are seeking election to Missouri's 163 House seats.

Q's and A's On Tax Matters

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I'm a salesman and get paid on a commission. Am I entitled to any sick pay exclusion and if so how do I figure it?

A — You are entitled to the sick pay exclusion if you are an employee and receive sick pay under the same conditions as those on a salary basis. These conditions are explained on page 7 of the 1040 instructions.

To figure your regular weekly pay for this purpose, take all the income you received for the four weeks prior to your illness and divide by 4. Use this amount as your weekly pay in determining if you meet the 75 per cent test.

Q — Have there been any changes in the tax law since I filed last year's return?

A — The major change for most taxpayers is the lower tax rate on 1965 income resulting from the second stage of the 1964 tax cut. The law now allows a pay exclusion for servicemen in Viet Nam, which is explained in the 1040 instructions. Last year's excise tax reduction has little, if any, effect on individual filing requirements.

Q — Our 19 year old son isn't married and lives at home with us, but he earns over $600 a year. Can we claim his exemption since we give him room and board?

A — If he is a full-time student and you furnish over half his support you are eligible to claim his exemption. Check the 1040 instructions for details.

Q — I lost my wallet with over $100 while Christmas shopping. Is that a deductible loss?

A — If the wallet was stolen and not lost or mislaid, then you may be able to deduct a portion of your loss. On casualty and theft losses only amounts over $100 may be deducted.

Q — I received $6,500 as compensation for injuries received in an auto accident last year. Is that taxable?

A — No, it is not. You do not have to report as taxable income the amount of any damages received by either suit or agreement as compensation for personal injuries or sickness.

More Government Control May Come

NEW YORK (AP) — Unless abuses in the drug industry are stopped, more government control is inevitable, says Dr. James L. Goddard, commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration.

Dr. Goddard told a group of internists here that misleading advertising and the failure of doctors to closely supervise new drugs and to submit detailed reports are among the leading abuses.

Develop Good Attitude

Driving an automobile is one of the great privileges we have as American citizens. Right now throughout the state scores of teenager licensed drivers and pre-drivers are undergoing practical and intensive training outlined in the national 4-H Automotive program conducted by the University of Missouri Extension Division. Educational material and training aids are provided by the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, a long-time supporter of 4-H.

This program is the only one of its kind in the U. S. making an effort to reach boys and girls before they drive. As one extension agent remarked: "A boy or girl of 14 or 15 is hungry for information for driving. Before they reach their 16th birthday, they are eager to learn. After they get that little piece of cardboard permitting them to drive, they become instant experts."

Proof that they do not become instant experts is the fact that persons of 25 years of age and under, who represent 15 per cent of the drivers, have 30 per cent of the traffic accidents. Why? Lack of judgment necessary to cope with modern day traffic and improper driving attitude, say safety authorities. Not having the right attitude contributes up to 85 per cent of traffic accidents.

Young people enrolled in the 4-H Automotive program learn about the mechanical function of the vehicle, take part in traffic surveys and develop the proper attitude and before they get behind the wheel. They not only have carefully planned "lessons" but hear from experts such as automotive engineers, traffic officers, safety authorities, insurance representatives and mechanics.

Periodic vehicle safety checks are conducted by many 4-H clubs in cooperation with the National Safety Council, National Vehicle Safety - Check for Communities, and local safety and law enforcement groups. Four-H groups in at least five counties — Worth, Gentry, Barton, Dade and Ray have vehicle safety-check programs under consideration for 1966.

A new dimension which has been added to the 4-H Automotive Program concerns the guide on how to evaluate or purchase a used car. A checklist is available for a 4-H member to use in deciding which used car they would be most interested in having. Many boys and girls who take the 4-H Automotive project desire to have a car of their own soon and the used-car checklist may prove a valuable aid in deciding which car will furnish the most transportation for the smallest investment.

Other dimensions of the 4-H Automotive program involve the 4-H member in keeping records on cost of operation of the family car as well as keeping it cleaned and polished. Making a safety check of the family car is also strongly advised.

Traffic Jam Ties Up Non-Dedicated Bridge

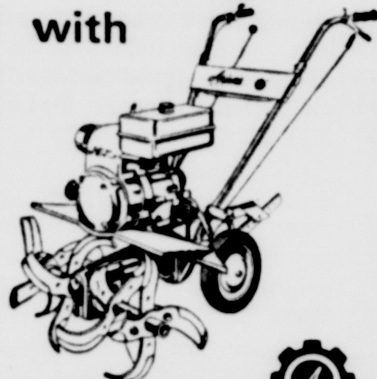

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) — The new bridge was made impassable by a traffic jam before it was even officially dedicated.

Officials opened the new Braga Memorial Bridge across the Taunton River, then piled into cars for the ceremonial drive across. An antique auto at the head of the parade stalled at an approach, delaying the motorcade for about 15 minutes.

TV Specials Bring World VIP's Home

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — To a seasoned viewer of television news specials, it sometimes seems that the international cast of characters is becoming quite familiar.

That is because although there are a lot of persons over the world who hold important jobs or reflect important opinions, many of them do not speak English — or anyway do not speak it well enough to be understood by an American audience.

Thus Gen. Pierre Gallois, who speaks good, clear, tough English, recently has been popping up all over the channels to reflect the French viewpoint. So has former Defense Minister Franz Joseph Strauss of West Germany. Abba Eban, Israel's foreign minister, speaks unaccented Oxford English and Egypt's Abdel Gamal Nasser handles the language well, too.

When Konrad Adenauer, whose English is on the lean side, was chancellor of West Germany, he was much less well known to American audiences than the mayor of Berlin, Willy Brandt, who speaks it fluently.

Thus when NBC presented a documentary on nuclear proliferation Sunday the national spokesmen apparently were picked partly for their language abilities.

No one has yet been able to find a way to handle translations satisfactorily for television viewers. During the important sessions of the United Nations Security Council, for instance, we heard only the bland, unmotional voice of the translator while speakers like Andrei Gromyko, on camera, obviously were orating passionately in full voice. When an interview is conducted through an interpreter, it is slow and difficult for all concerned.

Earlier in the afternoon NBC started a weekly series of film, tape and comment on the Viet

Payne Outshines All Others

Perry, Crook Highlight Big Eight Track Events

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oklahoma State's John Perry ran a 1:49.3 half mile and Nebraska's Dave Crook a 46.8 quarter for two of the five seasonal bests by Big Eight track athletes, but the weekend's top effort was a four-event show by Kansas State's Don Payne.

Payne climaxed an outstanding performance by his sizzling 46.5 anchor quarter in the mile relay which gave K-State the meet with 66 points to Oklahoma's 60. Southern Illinois was third with 54.

Earlier, Payne won the open quarter in 47.8, the 220 in 21.3 and anchored the winning 440 relay team. In the mile relay, Payne took the baton 15 yards behind SIU's Gary Carr and Lee Cahoun of Oklahoma, but caught them both on the last turn. The Manhattan crowd was on its feet cheering.

Other outdoor season bests were an excellent 14:15.8 three-mile by Oklahoma State's Chris McCubbins, 4:07.8 mile by OSU Tom Von Ruden, and a 37.6 in the 330 hurdles by K-State's Harold Wooten.

Oklahoma State beat Missouri 78-67 at Columbia, Iowa State beat Mankato State 96-49 at Ames and the Kansas varsity scored in several events and won five gold medals at the Emporia, Kan., Relays.

At the Air Force Academy Nebraska beat Colorado 80-64 and Air Force 81-63 while Colorado beat Air Force 82-63.

All eight conference teams will be in the Kansas Relays this week.

Big Day For Area Race Fans

The Sportsman Speedway at Marshall saw some exciting moments Sunday when racing had its big day with Don Cooper of Sedalia taking the "A" feature event and George Lasosky of Dover driving off with the honors in the "B" class feature.

The extremely dry, slick and dusty track played tricks on the drivers and several had difficulty in maneuvering their cars on the oval. But considering the track conditions no drivers were injured and no great damage resulted to any of the cars.

Racing fans saw the track record of 16.81 fall five times during the time trials with Bill Utz, Sedalia turning in a 16.24; Ken Taylor of Slater a 16.33; Tom Corbin of Carrollton 16.34; Don Cooper had a 16.38; and Tom Maycock, Miami, with a 16.42. George Lasosky in "B" time had a 17.38.

The "B" Trophy Dash—Four laps, won by Doug Harper, Norborne in 13.16 followed in order of their finish: Bill Blackburn, Versailles; Don Johnson, George Lasosky. Harper took an early lead and led the heat the four laps. Terry Ross presented the trophy.

"A" Class Trophy Dash—Four laps, went to Cooper in 11.65 and others finished in order: Ken Taylor, Bill Utz and Tom Corbin. Taylor spun out in the third turn and Utz barely missed crashing in to him. Terry Ross presented Cooper a trophy.

Slow Heat "B" Class—Eight laps, won by Frank Mackin, Marshall in 2:38.09. Mickey Whipkins, Carrollton; Roy Parker, Sedalia and David Manning, Carrollton, Dave Mackey, Higginsville, lost a wheel in the fourth turn during the first lap; David Manning, spun in front of Jim Bennington, Carrollton in the third turn and they crashed head on. Bennington had applied the brakes and no great damage resulted.

Fast Heat "B" Class—Eight laps, Roy Cary Boonville won in 2:38.08, and the finished in order was Doug Harper, Bill Bowler, David Brown, Marshall, and Ed Anthony, Kansas City. A restart came on the first lap when Ed Anthony, and Brown spun out. Bowen led the lead to Blackburn when he spun on the back stretch and went out.

Slow Heat "A"—Eight laps, no time due to most laps run on yellow flag. Bob Ford, winner; Jay Lyle, Selkey Spec., Marvin Gibson and Ed Anthony. Several of the cars spun out, returned to the track, only to have another spin to the infield causing the delay.

The Fast Heat "A"—Eight laps, also found the yellow flag prominent and no time was recorded. Jim Lyghty was the winner; Don Cooper, Doug Crank, Tom Maycock and Ken Taylor. Continued spinout of cars resulted in this delay.

The "B" Feature—Twenty laps, proved a thriller and the yellow flag being frequently waved because of cars spinning out and pile ups. Lasosky was the winner, followed by David Brown, Roy Parker, Rex Harris, David Manning.

Results of the "A" Feature—Twenty laps, the same problem of previous events of cars spinning out, going back in for re-team broke the national frosh mark in the four-mile relay at the Emporia Relays.

The Kansas time was 16:53.9, more than 17 seconds under the old mark of 17:11 by TCU in 1963. Mike Kearns ran 4:18.1, Gene Johnson 4:20 and Mike Petterson 4:17.8. Ryun also ran a 47.9 anchor leg on the mile relay and a 3:03.3 three-quarter-mile on the distance medley.

Eight weekend marks were the second best of the season, including Nebraska's 3:11.7 mile relay and a 7:29.8 two-mile relay and a 3:22.3 spring medley both by Kansas.

Kansas and Missouri colleges won 11 gold medals at the Emporia Relays. Emporia State and Fort Hays won three each. Lincoln two, Kirksville State, Warrensburg State and Pittsburg State one each. The Kansas varsity won the other seven.

They also set five meet records, two by Fort Hays State as Bob Schmidt cleared 6-8 in the jump and Don Lakin ran the 3,000-meter steeplechase in 9:21.4. The other meet marks were a 48-1 triple jump by Emporia State's Rich Boeringer, a 226-8½ javelin throw by Warrensburg's Keith Browne and a 168-6 discus throw by Lincoln's Stan McDonald.

Kansas freshman won 14 of the 16 frosh-juco events.

OSU Leads Five-Team Big 8 Race

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tough, consistent Oklahoma State is the early leader in a tight five-team Big Eight baseball race. Missouri's defending champs, ambushed at Colorado, are tied for sixth place in the surprise of the season.

At this stage, it appears that OSU, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Iowa State and Kansas State all have better pitching than does veteran Jim Simmons at Missouri. It's probably too early to count the Tigers out, though.

In 1963, Missouri lost its first game, then started winning but didn't overtake Oklahoma until May 2 by beating OU at Columbia on a field prepared by burning 145 gallons of gasoline to dry it after a heavy rain.

In 1964, the Tigers lost three of their first four in Texas opening the season, then won 23 straight en route to the NCAA finals, winding up 27-5.

In 1965, Missouri lost its first two league games at Nebraska, but won 12 of its next 13 to take the lead. Before Colorado almost knocked the Tigers out of the lead with a doubleheader sweep at Columbia.

OSU's pitching staff has given up only 12 runs in six games. Pitching was the name of the game last weekend. The average team score was only 2.6 runs a game if you throw out Colorado's 12-2 romp over Missouri Friday.

Chances are the race will become even tighter this Friday and Saturday, with Oklahoma State, 5-1, at Nebraska, 4-2; Iowa State, 3-3, at Oklahoma 4-2; Colorado 2-4, at K-State, 3-3; and Missouri, 2-4 at Kansas 1-5.

OSU's Richard Frank pitched a seven-hit 5-3 victory over Iowa State at Ames Saturday in the first game before Bob Ziegler fired a three-hitter for a 1-0 Iowa State victory in the second game. Doubles by Dick Olson and Mike Van Dine drove in the Cyclone winning run.

Kansas sophomore pitcher Bill Maddux singled home the winning run for a 3-2 extra-inning victory over K-State ace Bob Ballard. K-State pitcher Steve Wood singled home the winning run in a 2-1 second game victory.

Oklahoma's pudgy relief pitcher, Ron Hornbeck doubled in the 11th to drive in the winning run, 4-3. Clarence Lemaster pitched the route for a 4-2 Colorado victory over Missouri. Don Alsop led the Buffs with a single and steal of home. The series winners, all by a 2-1 margin, were Colorado, OSU, K-State and Oklahoma.

starts, and slowing down the race on the yellow flag, no time was recorded. Don Cooper won the event followed by Ken Taylor, Doug Crank, Bob Ford and Jay Lyle.

In the "AA" feature Cooper barely missed his chance when he spun to the middle of the track on the first lap on the third turn and was missed by inches by other cars coming in through the dust. A restart was made. Bill Utz, of Sedalia driving his new car went out on the 15-lap because of a flat on a front wheel and Cooper moved into the lead and had no difficulty in holding the lead for the remaining five-laps.

Face Physical Handicaps

Devine Disappointed With MU Tigers' First Workout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Missouri's first organized scrimmage of the spring left Coach Dan Devine disappointed with errors of the day, but optimistic about the squad's attitude for the 1966 season.

The Tigers lost all four starting tackles from the '65 Sugar Bowl club and two tackles counted on to help have been out this spring, Devine put it this way after Saturday's scrimmage:

"Our squad isn't what it should be, physically, but that's not saying we won't have a good team. The players realize the challenge they have ahead of them, and this is a good sign."

Junior tackle Mike Wempe sprained an ankle and junior Lee Mungai has been out because of a death in his family. Defensive guard Bill Powell may play tackle and defensive end Russ Washington could double at tackle. Tackles from last fall's freshman team may help.

Kansas opened spring practice Saturday and Coach Jack Mitchell termed his squad of 94 "the best conditioned we've had in a long time."

"There are no fat ones out there, and there won't be any," he said.

With talented Bob Skahan on the baseball team, Mitchell put Halley Kampschroeder split end late last season at No. 1 quarterback.

Freshman fullback David Aikins pulled a hamstring muscle and defensive end Thurman Edwards said he has decided to give up football.

Iowa State will open practice today with a squad of about 80 including 28 lettermen. In a March secret meeting Iowa State players vowed to be in a bowl game following the 1966 season.

The first three games next fall are with Wisconsin, Oklahoma and Nebraska. Coach Clay Stapleton thinks this may be a drawback but he admits he'll have his most experienced team since taking over in 1958.

At K-State, Coach Doug Weaver is down to one healthy tailback.

That one is Ossie Cain, however, and his running was outstanding in Saturday's scrimmage. The others are out with injuries. Freshman quarterback Bill Nossek scored one touchdown on a 45-yard run and passed for another.

Clay, who is appealing his 1-A draft status, signed an agreement in Chicago Saturday night to meet Cooper, the British heavyweight champion since 1959.

Cooper lost to Clay in 1963 when he was stopped in five rounds but gained the distinction of being the only man to floor the champion when he decked the Louisville Lip with a left hook.

Clay has a guarantee of $250,000 against a 50 per cent cut of the live gate. There is no return clause in the agreement which will become a formal contract when signed by Cooper this week.

The fight is expected to be held in the Arsenal soccer stadium which seats about 50,000 and televised via Early Bird Satellite to the rest of Europe and the United States.

Cooper, 32, returned to ring attention this year with a pair of victories over American fighters. He stopped Hubert Hilton in two rounds and knocked out Jefferson Davis in one round.

Clay, 24, is undefeated in 23 professional bouts. He scored a 15-round decision over George Chuvalo of Canada in Toronto last month.

Qualifying Races Are Fatal To One Driver

TULSA, Okla. (AP) —Robert Crews, 30, of Kansas City, Kan. was fatally injured Sunday at the Southwest Raceways during qualifying.

Witnesses said Crews' car swerved out of control at the end of a drag strip and crashed into a guard rail. Crews' vehicle was travelling about 180 miles per hour when the crash occurred, witnesses said.

Schaus Has Changed His Viewpoint

BOSTON (AP) — Coach Fred Schaus has changed his thinking now that his Los Angeles Lakers have taken a 1-0 lead over the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association's championship final series.

"Being realistic, I'd have been content to win one of the two games played here," Schaus said after the Lakers upset Boston 133-129 in overtime Sunday at Boston Garden, overcoming an 18-point deficit. "But when you win the first, you get greedy and want the second."

The second game of the best-of-seven series will be played at Boston Tuesday night before the teams switch to the West Coast for the third and fourth games.

Schaus said the importance of the Lakers winning the first game "might be exaggerated."

It merely means "that Boston knows it must win one at Los Angeles. However," he added, "if we win the second, then Boston has got some thinking to do."

Boston Coach Red Auerbach agreed that his defending champions "have our work cut out for us."

He was furious over what he considered some questionable calls but conceded "no matter what you say, you can't get it back now."

Auerbach was particularly irked over a goal-tending call on Bill Russell who blocked a shot by Elgin Baylor with 30 seconds left to play in regulation time.

"He gives them a ball game with just one call," said the fuming Auerbach.

Baylor's shot put Los Angeles ahead 121-119 and the best Boston could do was tie before regulation time ran out.

A's Fare Worse Than St. Louis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The St. Louis Cardinals' whammy over the Pirates at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh appears over.

The Cardinals tied a major league record Friday by beating the Pirates for the 18th time in a row, but now have lost two straight — 6-5 in nine innings Sunday and 5-3 Saturday.

St. Louis, 1-4, has lost three games by one run and one by two runs.

The Kansas City Athletics have fared worse this season. The A's, who have not won in five games, lost 5-0 to Chicago Sunday in the rain-interrupted first game of a doubleheader. The second game was rained out.

The Pirates scored their winning run Sunday on Bill Mazeroski's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded. Pittsburgh had filled the bases on Roberto Clemente's single, relief pitcher Al Jackson's fumble and wild throw on Willie Stargell's bunt and reliever Dennis Aust's intentional walk to Clendenon.

The Cardinals had exploded for five runs in the seventh inning for a 5-3 lead. Singles by Mike Shannon, Bob Gibson and Lou Brock drove in four runs and Charlie Smith scored on a walk to Jerry Buchek.

Pittsburgh tied it in the eighth when Bob Bailey doubled off the scoreboard to drive in a run and pinch hitter Jose Pagan singled to score Bailey.

The Pirates' other runs came on homers by Gene Alley in the first inning and Matty Alou in the third and Don Clendenon's third-inning single.

John Buzhardt, despite an hour, 42-minute delay caused by rain after the fifth inning threw a three-hitter at Kansas City. He walked only one.

The hits off the righthander were singles by Ken Harrelson, Wayne Causey and Jose Tartabull.

Floyd Robinson made sure Buzhardt had some runs. He singled across a run and scored on Pete Ward's single in the third inning, scored after singling in the fifth and homered in the eighth.

The White Sox whipped the Athletics, 2-1 in 11 innings Saturday when reliever John Wyatt walked four men.

St. Louis and Kansas City are both idle today.

Green Ridge Basebatter Hurt During Contest

Kenneth Ollison, 17, a senior in the Green Ridge High School, and a member of the school baseball team was treated for injuries to his left leg suffered while playing at Deepwater, Saturday night.

Ollison reported he received the injury when he slid into second base. After the game he drove to Sedalia to the Bothwell Hospital where Dr. J. M. Rode-man rendered medical treatment. An X-ray was taken but apparently did not reveal any fracture.

Green Ridge also was reported to have lost the ball game.

No Soft Touches For Gay In Contest

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—There's one thing about golfer Gay Brewer. He doesn't pick on any soft touches in a playoff.

Tiant Has Sox Eating His Soup

BY MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Luis Tiant didn't eat any potatoes this winter, so now he's in the gravy and the opposition's in the soup.

Tiant had the Boston Red Sox eating out of his hand Sunday, scattering seven hits as Cleveland won 6-0 and remained the only unbeaten team in the majors.

The Cuban right-hander thus became the first pitcher to post a shutout in the American League this season and exhibited signs that he is ready to return to his 1964 rookie form after a disappointing season last year.

The difference in Tiant apparently stems from his ability to become a hungry pitcher instead of a fat one during the off-season.

Indians' Manager Birdie Tebbetts took one look at Tiant when he reported to camp this spring and exclaimed, "Holy smokes! How about that?"

Tiant weighed 181 pounds, 20 less than last year, and ordered pants with a size 32 waist instead of the 36 he wore in 1965.

"I feel good, very good," the 25-year-old Tiant told everyone at camp. "I throw two, maybe three times a week in Mexico City, but mostly run and not eat. No work at regular job, but work all the time on getting in good condition. I think I pitch better because I lose all the weight."

"I stop eating greasy foods. No chocolate, no potatoes, no bread, no beans...Well, sometimes — maybe once a week — I eat the beans, but not much."

In his first year — or more correctly first half-year since he didn't join Cleveland until the middle of the season — Tiant won 10 games and lost four. Then in 1965 he dipped to 11-11.

In other American League games Washington whipped previously unbeaten Detroit 10-4, Baltimore edged New York 5-4 and Chicago blanked Kansas City 5-0 in the first game of a doubleheader. The second game was washed out by rain as was the California-Minnesota game.

In the National League Pittsburgh nipped St. Louis 6-5, San Francisco defeated Houston 3-1, Los Angeles stopped Chicago 5-0, New York trimmed Atlanta 5-4 and Philadelphia beat Cincinnati 3-1.

A grand slam homer by Washington pinch hitter Bob Chance highlighted a six-run outburst in the seventh inning that stopped the Tigers' five-game winning streak. Ken Mullen contributed another homer to the rally. The victory was the first for the Senators, who had lost three.

Shortstop Bobby Murcer made his third error of the game in the eighth inning, a miscue that helped Baltimore score two runs and down New York. Charlie Lau brought in the tying run with a sacrifice fly, and Curt Blefary's single drove in the winner.

John Buzhardt picked up the AL's second shutout a couple of hours after Tiant got his, stopping Kansas City on three hits in a rain-delayed game. Floyd Robinson led the White Sox attack with two singles and a home run.

Brewer's opponent in an 18-hole playoff today was a fellow named Arnold Palmer, with whom he tied after the regulation 72 holes Sunday in the $100,000 Tournament of Champions.

One week ago the 34-year-old Gay, from Louisville, Ky., by way of Dallas, Tex., morelly faced Jack Nicklaus and Tommy Jacobs at 18 holes after they deadlocked in the famed Masters at Augusta, Ga.

Nicklaus, of course, won with two-under par 70, Jacobs had 72 and Gay 78.

"The way I was putting, I'm lucky to get into the playoff this time," said Brewer, who rapidly is becoming a sentimental favorite with golf fans.

Palmer and Brewer met once before under the same conditions and Arnie won in a sudden death test in the West Palm Beach Open in 1959.

With $20,000 at stake for the winner and $12,000 to the runner-up, this was the first playoff in the 14-year history of the tournament here.

Brewer, undisputed leader in the middle rounds, went into Sunday's final 18 holes leading Palmer by five strokes and Bill Casper by six.

Palmer, with an eagle three on the fifth hole, cut the margin by three strokes in five holes and going into the final nine was only one shot back of Brewer and Casper was two.

Casper eventually faded to 70 and 285, which was worth $8,000. Palmer finally caught Gay on the 13th hole with a birdie three and went ahead for the first time on the 17th hole, again with a birdie three.

Came the 72nd and final hole. All Arnie needed to win was a par four.

Palmer missed the putt, took a bogey five to Brewer's par— and that's why both were on hand at the par 36-36—72 Desert Inn Country Club today.

U.S. Open champion Gary Player, who said the 25-mile an hour gusty winds were the worst he ever encountered, shot a 76 for 294.

Nicklaus, who never recovered from his opening round 76, had a 72 for 288 and a tie with Australia's Bruce Crampton and his 74.

Dave Marr, the PGA champion, and former PGA titleholder Robby Nichols tied at 289 with Frank Beard.

Three Races Play Role In Derby

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Three horse races Saturday, two worth $100,000 and the other $75,000 in added money, will go a long way toward determining the opposition for favored Graustark when the 3-year-olds lineup for the 92nd running of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs May 7.

The 100 grand races are the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct and the Governor's Gold Cup at Bowie, Md. The $75,000 affair is the California Derby at Golden Gate Fields. The Wood and California Derby are at 1 1/4 miles, the Gold Cup at 1-1/16 as compared to the 1 1/4 miles of the Kentucky Derby.

The Forerunner, at seven furlongs and with much less value, will be run at Keeneland Friday.

Then, with two weeks to go before the big one at Churchill Downs, there'll remain only three major races for Derby hopefuls to prove their worthiness to take on the unbeaten Graustark.

One is the 1 1/4 miles of the Blue Grass April 28 at Keeneland in which Graustark is scheduled to get his final prep. The others are the seven-furlong Stepping Stone at Churchill Downs April 30 and the one mile Derby Trial May 3.

Graustark is more firmly entrenched than ever as the favorite. He chalked up his seventh victory of an injury-plagued career last Saturday when he won the seven-furlong Spendthrift Purse by nearly four lengths in an ordinary 1:22 1-5 at Keeneland.

Cabildo, for whom Mrs. Joe W. Brown paid $175,000 in February, was second. Cabildo is likely to take another crack at Graustark in the Blue Grass. Abe's Hope, disqualified out of first in the Florida Derby, also is in Kentucky waiting for the Blue Grass.

Here's how this Saturday's races line-up:

Wood—Wheatley Stable's Stupendous, a three-quarter-length victor over stalemated Impressive in last Saturday's one mile Gotham, will be back. Trainer Eddie Nely said, however, that Stupendous will not start in the

Tomato Varieties

In Missouri, tomatoes can be planted the first week of May in most of central Missouri. Watch for the five-day weather forecast for your area around tomato planting time. This will help you decide when to plant. Earlier plantings should have "hot caps."

You should be aware of the benefits available from a long term breeding program at the University of Missouri. This program is currently under the direction of V. N. Lambeth of the department of horticulture.

To date, Lambeth has released four hybrids and one standard variety. Several additional "trial" hybrids are presently being grown by cooperating plant growers over Missouri to determine statewide adaptability.

The variety and hybrids released to date offer a wide choice in type of vine growth and fruit characteristics. Do you like red fruit or pink fruit? Do you like large or medium size tomatoes? Are you interested in crack resistance, meatiness, earliness?

While there is considerable choice in fruit and vine characteristics of the Missouri-introduced tomatoes, they all offer two very important qualities often overlooked by the home gardener. These qualities are wilt resistance and productivity. By productivity we mean the ability to set fruit under Missouri conditions.

So, when you purchase tomato plants from your local plant grower during the next few weeks, check to see if he has available any of the following Missouri introduced tomatoes:

SURPRISE HYBRID: Was the first hybrid introduced. It is gaining in popularity each year as gardeners learn of its desirable qualities. Surprise is considered as early, maturing in about 65 days from transplanting. It has red fruit, medium to large in size, and is of excellent color and quality when allowed to fully ripen on the vine. The fruit ripens to the stem scar and shows marked resistance to cracking. Adequate foliage protects the fruit from sunscald.

SUPREME HYBRID was the second hybrid introduced and is a favorite among gardeners who like a tomato with fruit characteristics similar to such popular varieties of the past as Marglobe, Rutgers, and Stokesdale. The advantages of Supreme lies in its superior wilt resistance and productivity. It also matures in about 70 days. While it exhibits no particular crack resistance, if grown under conditions of even water supply it should give little difficulty in this respect.

AVANCE HYBRID was the third hybrid introduced by the University of Missouri. It is similar to Surprise hybrid in many respects. It matures in about 70 days. It has the outstanding ability to set fruit under our hot summer temperatures. Fruit is red, medium large in size and almost globe shaped. Avance is perhaps the most crack-resistant tomato on the market today that is adapted to Missouri conditions.

SUN-UP hybrid is the latest introduction. It offers something really different in a tomato. You should remember two things about Sun-up. First, it is a determinate (compact) type plant and as such is not suitable to staking. Second, since it features an early, concentrated fruit set, it must be planted on especially fertile soil. It should receive plenty of sunlight, water and fertility. Sun-up will give you a lot of fruit early. It usually does not hold up during the summer months as do Surprise, Supreme and Avance hybrids.

TOMBOY is not a hybrid tomato, but to the gardener who likes a pink Ponderosa type tomato that features earliness (about 70 days) and wilt resistance, Tomboy may be what you are looking for. Fruit is large, early ones somewhat rough, pink, very meaty, with seeds few in number and small in size. The plant is not especially attractive, but for those who like this type of fruit, the reward is in the eating!

Hog Outlook

Hog slaughter under federal inspection was quite stable from mid-Jan. through Feb. The weekly number varied from 1,110,000 to 1,155,000 during this period. Compared to last year the Jan. number was down 24 per cent. In Feb. the level was down only 14 per cent below the year earlier figure. The smaller decline in Feb. resulted from a drop in Feb. 1965 and not from an increase in 1966. The 1966 slaughter rate did increase quite sharply in early Mar.—the first two weeks of Mar. was up about 15 per cent as compared to the weekly rate in Feb.

Hog prices declined about $3 cwt. at most markets during the first two weeks of Mar., then stabilized somewhat during the next week, then declined another $2-$3 by the week ending April 1. After the decline prices at most of the river markets were between $22.50 and $23.50 per cwt. on barrows and gilts.

Some additional decline may occur during Apr., especially if marketings are bunched or abnormally high temperatures occur.

The summer high in hog prices usually occur earlier in years when hog production is increasing. Therefore, the high in 1966 may come in June or early July. The level of prices should be near the 1965 summer high of about $25 at the Missouri River markets for weekly average on 200-220 lb. barrows and gilts. Prices during the late fall and early winter will be sharply below the 1965 level, especially in late Nov. and Dec. If marketings are not increased more than the 9-10 per cent indicated by the Mar. pig crop report, prices should not drop much if any below $18 per cwt. for a weekly average on 200-220 lb. barrows and gilts at the river markets.

The Mar. 1 pig crop report

for 10 Corn Belt states indicates a very moderate increase in hog farrowings for 1966 when compared to past years with prices and feeding ratios similar to the past few months.

The slower response probably is due in part to several changes in the structure of the industry (larger production units and fewer producers) and a better understanding by the producers of the results when sharp increases in production are made.

Even though these changes to larger units, etc., may slow down increases, rather large changes in the level of hog production can still be made. The level of prices since July of 1965 have been so favorable that it is highly unlikely that producers will not increase production enough to severely depress prices by the fall of 1967 and they may occur in the spring of 1967.

High Lime Needs

"Why do I need so much lime?" is a common question around Extension offices at this time of year, when a lot of soil tests are being made. If you have been surprised at the lime requirements on your farm, you may have raised this question. Basically there are about three reasons for the sizable tonnage required.

First of all you probably acquired a sizable need for lime when you got the title to your farm. This need has likely been increased by the use of fertilizers, and in many cases—deep plowing. Added together they amount to rather high lime requirements on fields, which have had little or no lime. Fields which have been limed in the past, need less, of course, but unless limed recently, the majority need some lime for top production.

The climate in Missouri, led to the development of soils which were acid by nature. Many upland soils were in need of lime when the state was settled. Cropping and soil erosion added to the problem. By the early 1900's most of our upland soils were in need of limestone. Thus, you likely bought a lime problem when you purchased a Missouri farm.

Fertilizers which you need for good yields are another part of the problem. Each pound of nitrogen used, consumes about five pounds of limestone. This, of course, isn't a large figure, but it takes about 1/2 of the limestone used in the state to offset the acid effects of the nitrogen applied to our crops. It's one of the reasons it is difficult to gain on the lime needs of our soils. We need to use more fertilizer in the years ahead—and as we do, we likely will need to use more limestone to counteract this acid effect.

Deeper plowing is another practice which is being used in some areas, particularly in recent years, when bigger tractors have become available. If you have been plowing 8-9-10 inches, you may have found it helpful in obtaining good yields. Certainly deep plowing seems to work well in some soils. However, it may increase lime needs. The lime needs on most upland soils increase with depth. The soil at nine inches needs more lime than the surface. When we turn this more acid layer with a plow, we automatically increase lime required.

Deep plowing may also offset recent lime applications. Limestone recommendations are based on the surface seven inches, which amounts to about two million pounds. In other words, a six ton lime recommendation is designed to be mixed with two million pounds of soil. When we apply the six tons—then plow 9 or 10 inches deep. We may mix it with three million pounds of soil. Obviously, it won't do the same job in three million that it would in two.

Corn Soil Insecticide Situation

Considerable thought has been given during the past two years regarding the impact upon Missouri corn production should soil insecticides, such as aldrin and heptachlor, be withdrawn from the market. It is possible for some Missouri corn growers to undergo this experience this spring, not because these materials have been withdrawn but because they are not able to obtain a supply.

The basis for the above statement is that the supply of technical aldrin and heptachlor has been exhausted and the available supply of the various formulations are now largely in the hands of distributors and dealers. The extent of this shortage at the farmer level remains to be seen since the amount of technical material manufactured was about that used during the 1965 season. This, of course, would leave no room for expansion in the use of those soil insecticides, and it has been reported that demand has been
